

ba

o

as

as u

KnowledgeWave TRAINING

MOBILE LAPTOP CLASSROOM

MOBILE LAPTOP CLASSROOM

We recognize it's not always practical or cost-effective to send multiple employees to an offsite class. In response to your needs, we now offer a mobile laptop classroom consisting of ten fully-equipped and configurable student machines and an instructor station (laptop and LCD projector to enhance the learning experience).

Advantages of Mobility

There are many benefits of using the KnowledgeWave Mobile Laptop Classroom.

Cost Effective

Often, you can train a greater number of people for less money than our open enrollment classes, and it's all done in the relative comfort of your own business environment.

Saves Employees from Traveling

With the high cost of travel, there is a huge savings when there is no employee travel to reimburse.

KnowledgeWave was a wonderful asset in our transitional period from Office 2003 to Office 2007. They provided great hands-on training for our support staff so that we were prepared to roll this product out to our community.

Jason Aldrich
HD Manager, Information Systems
Norwich University

Custom Configuration

Our in-house classrooms represent a "typical" office environment. Our mobile laptops can be configured to more closely match the look and feel of your office environment. In other words, we can match the Windows operating system and software package you are using, to create a better learning environment.

For Your Next Training... Order Out

You can get pizza, chicken wings, even donuts delivered. So, why not your computer classes?

We will bring the instructor, the computers, the courseware... all you need to do is provide the students. It's a great new solution to your training challenges.

Custom Training Topics

Our open enrollment classes map to the general needs of information workers. However, there may be specific topics and lessons you would like us to address. We can customize the courseware to meet your needs.

Cover Multiple Applications

We often create several courses for clients and teach them in the same day. For instance, your employees could learn about the new features of Microsoft Outlook in the morning and how to create Excel spreadsheets in the afternoon.